

Instructions

This manual was created to be as straightforward and as practical as possible, because of this, information is duplicated in numerous areas to make it easier to locate the required information. To assist in making this manual simple to use, follow the process below to obtain the correct information.

- Ascertain timber specie to be used. Refer to Timber Information section and locate the timber specie being used.

- Refer to the Timber Specie to be used. Take note of the important points regarding your particular timber specie.

- Next refer to the Index. Under Application Data By Specific Area, locate area to be coated and refer to this section. i.e Exterior Timber Joinery.

- Select the coating System to be used. Read the basic Product information for application rates, temperature etc. Note important points.

- For more detailed product information refer to the Product Technical Data section in the index. Locate the appropriate section.

